

APPLICATIONS OF COMPUTERS
TO
BEHAVIOR ANALYSIS & HUMAN SERVICE SYSTEMS

A Special One-day Workshop
Friday February 11, 1983

 Featured Presenters *****

Dr. Jim Favell & Mr. Paul Rasmussen

Western Carolina Center
Morganton, North Carolina

&

Dr. Ray Romanczyk

State University of New York
Binghamton, New York

Sponsored by the

FLORIDA ASSOCIATION FOR BEHAVIOR ANALYSIS

Dr. Jerry Martin, Sunland Orlando, President
Workshop Coordinators:

Don Pittman,
Behavior Management Consultants, Inc.

&

Dr. Jon S. Bailey, Florida State University

Registration is on-site. Currently paid up F.A.B.A. members may attend at no charge. Memberships available at the door.
Non-member registration is $25.00.

----- La Bodega Convention Center -----
Hilton Inn West
--3200 W. Colonial, Orlando, Florida--

APPLICATIONS OF COMPUTERS
TO BEHAVIOR ANALYSIS & HUMAN SERVICE SYSTEMS

Friday Morning Feb. 11, 1983

8:00-  R E G I S T R A T I O N ***
9:00 La Bodega Convention Center, Hilton Inn West

Basic Track

Advanced Track

9:00-	Ray Romanczyk	Jim Favell & Paul Rasmussen
10:00	"Comprehensive uses of computers in Applied Behavior Analysis"	"A review & critique of 'ready-to-run' applications programs in word processing data base management, electronic spread sheets, graphics, statistics & applications to administration, clinical case-mgmt, and research"

10:00- Question & Answer period
10:30

10:30- Brief descriptions of computer projects by
10:45 participants listed below

10:45- Poster-session style presentations &
12:00 demonstrations -occurring simultaneously

- 1) Personal computer use in a residential program for the developmentally disabled. Patrick Quinn, Ga. Regional Hospital
- 2) Computer assisted instruction in the Orange County School System. Dale Brushwood, Orange County Schools
- 3) Computerized management of student information. Terry Provancha, Primrose Schools.
- 4) Practical application of computers for inputting/analyzing client and facility data. Del Delaney, Dev. Services, District VIII
- 5) Project Recipe. Sanders Bell, Sarasota County School System
- 6) Word processing made easy with Word Handler II. Duke Schell & Jon Bailey, Fla. St. Univ & Behavior Management Consultants, Inc.

12:00-1:00

L U N C H B R E A K

Friday afternoon

Basic Track

- 1:00- Jim Favell & Paul Rasmussen
2:00 "Overview of micro-computer fundamentals including basic hardware & software concepts, historical perspective, current trends & future directions

Advanced Track

- Ray Romanczyk
"Strategies & limitations of micro-computer utilization- selecting software for data base, real-time operations & computer-assisted instruction

2:00- Question & Answer Period
2:30

2:30- Brief descriptions of computer projects by
2:45 participants listed below

2:45- Poster-session style presentations &
4:00 demonstrations -occurring simultaneously

- 7) Using PLATO to collect and analyze observer data. Dianne Greenfield, Fla. State Univ.
- 8) Demonstration of the Osborne and Xerox computer. Sandra Goldberg, The Xerox Store
- 9) General purpose data base systems for the Apple computer: a Caveat. Robert Klepac, Fla. St. Univ.
- 10) FITMAN: a computer-assisted-instruction program for weight control. David Abbott & Karen Milo, Univ. of Central Fla.
- 11) An interactive counseling program for weight loss. David Abbott & Jay Merkle, Univ. of Central Fla.

4:00- Closing remarks by Dr. Jerry Martin,
4:30 President, Florida Association for Behavior Analysis