Purpose

The purpose of the Florida Association for Behavior Analysis is to promote the use of effective and humane behavior analysis procedures in education, business, industry, government, and training in rehabilitation facilities throughout the state of Florida. This goal is to be achieved by providing a professional organization that members can look to for support and continued education as the field of behavior analysis develops and expands. The association meets the needs of its members by organizing an annual statewide conference for the exchange of ideas and data-based research related to behavior analysis, behavior therapy, Performance Management, and behavior management programming. In addition, the association publishes the FABA Quarterly, a newsletter focusing on guidelines, new facilities, and new effective programs for treatment in Florida. The Florida Association for Behavior Analysis also publishes a directory listing all members and their special areas of interest and expertise.

Membership

Membership is open to anyone engaged in applied behavioral research, education, consultation, therapy, or supervision of the delivery of behavioral services in Florida. There are 3 categories of membership:

Professional. Anyone employed full-time who provides or supervises the delivery of behavioral services or is engaged in applied research, or who is part of a team of therapists who provide behavioral training (e.g., physicians, nurses, PTs, OTs, speech pathologists, etc.). We encourage professionals from all areas to join FABA. With this category, there are Ph.D.-level membership and BA/MA-level membership.

Students/Direct Care. Anyone who is currently enrolled in a course of study in an accredited college or university, and has proof of enrollment (current picture ID), and is interested in the application of behavioral principles is eligible for student membership. Also, those direct care staff who are non-supervisory may also qualify for this lower rate. The special lower rate of student/direct care membership is intended to encourage membership from these two populations. Full-time employed students who take courses part-time should apply for Professional membership.

Sustaining. Professional members who are able to provide a substantial amount of financial support to FABA make up this group. Their support is greatly appreciated.

Membership Year:

For dues purposes, the membership year goes from Sept. 1 to Aug. 31. For practical purposes this means that members will pay their annual dues when they register for the Annual Meeting. Thus, all those attending this year's meeting will need to plan on the extra expense of paying their dues. An exception is made for those joining at the mid-year conference (usually in the spring of the year). These members will be considered "paid up members" at the Annual Meeting. Fees are weighted to encourage students and professionals to become members of FABA.

General Registration Information

Registration is required to attend or present at all sessions and participate in all meetings. All participants will receive a badge which serves as identification and a receipt.

Badges must be worn to all sessions as there will be FABA Hosts at all meeting rooms to check badges prior to each session.

Continuing Education Unit registration and fee payment will be on-site and billed at $5/hr. for FABA members ($6/hr. for others).

Advance Registration

Advance registration is recommended to allow the Program Committee to estimate the number of participants who will be attending this year's meeting and is required for the Pre-Conference Workshops. Advance registration must be postmarked no later than August 30, 1993 using an official Advance Registration Form. Advance Registrants will receive confirmation by mail. Forms received after August 30 will be billed on-site for the balance due.

The fee for on-site registration will be higher to reflect the increased cost to FABA to provide on-site registration facilities and personnel. There will be an Express Advance Registration Desk where you may pick up your badge and conference materials with a minimum of waiting time. The Advance Registration fee is reduced to encourage members to pre-register by mail for the conference.

An Advance Registration Form can be found at the back of this program. Please use check, money order, or credit card only!

On-site registration is such a hassle for us that we want to have as many people as possible participate in Advance Registration. Those registering on-site are urged to come on Wednesday evening or early in the morning on Thursday to avoid the crunch just before major presentations.

Group Rate for FABA Professional Members only: $5.00 off each regular registration, for four or more members from the same facility who apply via Advance Registration as a group (i.e., all registrations together in one envelope).

Cancelled Advance Registrations will receive 50% refunds. Members not accepted to Pre-Conference Workshops will receive 100% refunds.

Continuing Education Units

We have applied to the Florida Department of Professional Regulation for Continuing Education Units for this conference. Those wishing to receive credit must sign in at the CEU Desk at registration to indicate sessions for which they wish to receive credit, attend and sign in for each session, and have their attendance verified. Certificates of Attendance will be issued at the end of the conference after all verifications have been received at the CEU Desk. Licensed psychologists may earn up to approximately 20 hours of the available 60 CEU credit hours at this conference. Fees are $5/hr. for FABA members ($6/hr. for non-members), plus registration.

Tenth Annual FAB A Pre-Conference Workshops

The Executive and Conference Program Committees are pleased to offer five superb Pre-Conference Workshops on Wednesday, Sept. 22. These are available exclusively to FAB A members for intensive training from nationally recognized experts. HRS Certified Behavior Analysts will be given priority in registration to meet their needs for continuing education and their obligations to provide oversight in their districts.

Registration for each workshop is available by Advance Registration only and seating is limited to allow increased audience contact with the experts. Costs for the workshops are in addition to Dues and Registration, but are an incredible bargain for such intense training.

Pre-Conference Workshop costs: $45 for each half-day workshop, or $80 for a full day (or, one each of am and pm workshops). The exception is Dr. Geller's full day workshop, which is $105 for members.

Wednesday Morning Workshops 8:00 am - 12:00 pm

Dr. B. Iwata Assessment and Treatment of Self-Injury and Related Behavior Disorders

Mr. J. Saunders & Design and Development of Bar Code Data

We will be holding our annual Film Festival Thursday and Friday in the Forum Room. Film descriptions are on pages 44. Film schedules are on the schedule grids on pages 40 - 43.

Accommodations and Room Reservations

For the first time ever our annual fall conference is being held in beautiful South Florida at the luxurious Westin Hotel-Cypress Creek, located just northwest of downtown Ft. Lauderdale. This hotel is central to all of the major highway arteries of South Florida, being located just off Interstate 95. Located in Ft. Lauderdale's burgeoning business corridor, The Westin Hotel-Cypress Creek is situated on a five-acre lagoon in one of the area's most prestigious office parks. Guest rooms are richly appointed, with comfortable, well-lit work areas, fully stocked mini refrigerators, and 24-hour room service. If exercise is part of your daily regimen, the Westin Hotel has everything you will need, including a private jogging path, health club, nautilus equipment, lifecycles, whirlpool, sauna, and swimming pool. Additionally, golf, tennis, racquetball, fishing, and sailing are all available within minutes. A shuttle service is available for shopping trips or to the beach. Attractive room rates, with the plush tropical environment, makes this an ideal family getaway opportunity!

Use the Reservation Card you previously received with your Advance Registration Information flyer, or call directly at 305-772-1331. If you call the hotel, be sure to mention FABA to get the special room rate of $69 for up to two persons.

The Association for Behavior Analysis: An International Organization

FABA is an affiliate of the Association for Behavior Analysis which was founded in 1974 and has approximately 1500 members. ABA holds its annual meeting during the Memorial Day weekend and the 1994 meeting will be in Atlanta. Benefits of membership include receiving The Behavior Analyst, a semi-annual journal, a newsletter, membership directory, and reduced rates for the annual ABA meeting. For more information, contact ABA, Department of Psychology, Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo, Michigan, 49008, or call (616) 383-1629.

8:00 am - 12:00 pm

Morning Half Day Workshops

Executive Room

Dr. Brian Iwata - 4 CEUs.

Assessment and Treatment of Self-Injury and Related Behavior Disorders.

This workshop will present a comprehensive approach to the treatment of self-injury and related disorders. Topics will include the nature, classification, and etiology of self-injury; development of an assessment and treatment plan; treatment selection based on outcomes of functional analysis assessment procedures; current developments in the refinement of reinforcement-based interventions; and, maintenance and generalization procedures. Extensive use will be made of case study presentations and written handouts.

Forum Room

Mr. Jay Saunders & Mr. Darwin Eakins

Design and Development of Bar Code Data Collection Systems.

This workshop will (1) present an introduction to bar code technology, (2) provide criteria for analyzing the suitability of converting data collection systems to bar codes, and (3) explain the fundamentals of bar code software design and development.

9:00 am - 5:00 pm

Full Day Workshops

San Marco/Lido Room

Dr. Richard Foxx - 7 CEUs

Gaining Acceptance and Achieving Independence: Improving Quality of Life Options for Personal Empowerment Through Skills Building.

This workshop will focus on teaching skills and strategies designed to provide individuals with a full range of interactive and quality of life options. Topics to be covered include how to teach social and problem solving skills, choice making, and expressing one's community living preferences, and language strategies. The language training is based on the way parents typically interact and develop language with normal children. Particular emphasis will be given to individuals with behavioral excesses and deficits and difficult to manage behaviors. The workshop will also emphasize the design, implementation, and evaluation of effective, practical techniques and educational strategies that can be successfully implemented in community based programs, residential settings, and school programs. The use of successful positively based programs that stress language development will be illustrated via dramatic videotapes of extremely challenging individuals.

9:00 am - 5:00 pm Full Day Workshop

Venice Room

Dr. Scott Geller - 7 CEUs

Integrating Behavior Based and Person Based Psychology to Achieve a Total Safety Culture.

Principles and strategies to manage human resources for occupational health and safety will be presented as a result of the speaker's 25 years of professional experience as a researcher, teacher, and consultant in the application of behavioral science to motivate beneficial individual and organizational change. Continuous improvement requires participants to "actively care" for a "total safety culture", and this requires certain tools from applied behavior analysis to change behavior and develop self-esteem, personal control, empowerment, and group cohesion. Techniques for increasing "actively caring" will be discussed.

1:00 pm - 5:00 pm Afternoon Half Day Workshop

Executive Room

Dr. Jim Partington - 4 CEUs

Designing Effective Language Intervention Procedures for Young Autistic Children: Coordinating Home and School Programs.

This workshop will teach participants how to assess the language needs of young autistic children, and how to set up basic language intervention programs which can be implemented across both school and home environments. A major emphasis will be placed on identifying methods to enhance and utilize motivational variables to teach language in both structured teaching sessions and in ongoing activities, including playtime. Methods of data collection and tracking will be presented, along with techniques for coordinating the ongoing decision making necessary for an effective intervention. Issues such as sign language, symbol boards, and disruptive behavior will also be discussed.

Meet Our Keynote Speaker For 1993

Mr. Larry L. Biddle

Larry Biddle has been involved with educating young people for many years. He has taught students Spanish and has held numerous administrative positions at the college, high school, middle school, and elementary school levels in both public and private institutions. Mr. Biddle has a B.A. from St. Mary's College of California and a master's degree from Middlebury College in Spain. Mr. Biddle has also worked with the Renaissance Education Foundation, a non-profit service group founded by Jostens designed to help schools and students learn to promote and achieve academic excellence. He served as the chief education consultant for the program, helping to establish the Renaissance movement in more than 2,500 high schools across the country. Mr. Biddle has recently appeared on "CBS This Morning" and his educational concepts have been featured in The Wall Street Journal, The Washington Post, The Chicago Tribune, Investor's Business Daily, and Nations Business. Mr. Biddle is currently working as an education consultant with the McDonald's owner/operators of North Carolina and coastal South Carolina on a regionwide high school educational achievement program -- McDonald's Academic Ed-Venture.

FABA is truly fortunate to have this dynamic innovator and speaker as our Keynote Speaker for 1993. This presentation is especially timely, as this year's meeting is co-sponsored by the country's largest single school district, the Broward County Public Schools.
